FEASTER I. JONES LEFT A FREE MAN

VERDICT NOT GUILTY WAS RETURNED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

JURY STAYED OUT
1 HOUR 6 MINUTES

Arguments Were Made Yesterday
Morning Followed By Judge
Moore's Charge to Jury.

After a deliberation of one hour and six minutes the jury yesterday afternoon at 3:35 returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Feaster Jones, charged with killing Dr. L. O. McCalla.

The court room was crowded almost as much as it was on Thursday during the trial, hundreds of people anxiously awaiting the verdict.

As soon as the jury filed in and had taken their seats, Judge Moore warned the audience against any demonstration. Mr. Jas. N. Pearman, clerk of court, then called the roll of the jury and J. E. Garvin, foreman, stated that a verdict had been reached.

When the verdict was read, Mr. Jones received it with a smile. Counsel and friends seated nearby extended congratulations, and court asked Mr. Jones' counsel to prepare the discharge order. After this was done and the order was signed, Mr. Jones walked out of the court room. Everything passed off quietly in the court room and there was no demonstration.

The case went into the hands of the jury yesterday afternoon at 1:40 o'clock, after arguments by state's attorney's and defense and after Judge Moore had charged the jury.

The first argument was made by Mr. Proctor A. Bonham for the state, who emphasized the actual facts of the killing of Dr. McCalla and who gave a possible motive for the slaying.

Mr. T. Frank Watkins made the first argument for the defense. He charged assistant state's counsel as being unconcerned in the case except for the revenge of some outside party. This was followed by a very urgent appeal for the life of his client.

Mr. Watkins was followed by Gen. M. L. Bonham for the defense. He made a very strong appeal for the life of Mr. Jones and very vividly depicted how a happy home had been broken up. His speech was rather touching at times and no one could have heard it without being affected to some extent.

Mr. K. F. Smith, solicitor, closed the case for the state. The trend of his argument was to show that Feaster Jones' not temporarily insane the morning that he killed Dr. McCalla. Mr. Smith was at his best and his argument was splendid.

Judge Moore's charge to the jury was not very lengthy. The attorneys for the defense had requested that the jury be charged as to the plea of temporary insanity, and the request of the state was practically the same.

After complimenting the jury for their close attention during the trial Judge Moore stated in part as follows:

"Murder is the killing of one man by another with malice aforethought. Malice must be in the heart of the slayer. By the definition of the word, malice, is wickedness or evil intent in the heart of the slayer and may be either expressed or implied. It may be implied by some previous grudge. 'Manslaughter is the slaying of a person by another in the heat of passion not with malice. The deed must be done before there has been time enough for the slayer to cool off, and his heat and passion be dissipated. The slayer must have some cause for his acts of passion, some act, for words alone are not sufficient to justify the madness. Under the laws of South Carolina the fact that the deceased had illicit relations with a female member of the slayer's family, does not give the slayer the right to kill. Any information furnished the slayer in regard to this may be used as competent evidence to show that the defendant was aroused by the facts, whether true or untrue, to cause such madness as to produce temporary insanity."

"In a murder case the burden of proof rests with the state. They must establish the facts of the murder, and when temporary insanity is the plea, the burden of proof of the insanity matter rests on the defense. This does not mean the burden of proof of the case, but merely the burden of proof of the plea of insanity."

ANOTHER MURDER CASE OCCUPYING ATTENTION

THREE NEGROES ARE ACCUSED OF KILLING ANOTHER
—SOME MYSTERY

WAS BADLY BURNED

And it is Not Known Whether These Were Made Before or After Death Came.

Yesterday afternoon after the Jones case was sent to the jury, another murder case began to occupy the attention of the court. It was that of Charlie Donaldson, Trauman Davis and Lawrence Cowan, charged with killing another negro in the Five Forks section about the first week in October.

Shortly after this case was begun all jurors and witnesses except those engaged in it were excused, the jurors for this term; and the witnesses until Monday morning. It is thought that the docket will be cleared by Wednesday night.

When court took a recess yesterday afternoon, all witnesses for the state in the murder case had been on the stand, and the defense had put up two. Solicitor Smith represents the state and Breazeale and Pearman the defense.

After the examination of the state's witnesses, the defense asked that the court direct a verdict of not guilty as to Trauman Davis and Lawrence Cowan, it appearing that there was no evidence to convict them. The state thought that there was testimony that would implicate Trauman Davis. As a result of the difference in opinion over the evidence, the court asked that the testimony of Jim Wakefield be read by the court stenographer. After this was done, Judge Moore directed a verdict of not guilty as to Lawrence Cowan.

The killing took place early one morning at a saw mill. From the testimony it appears that George Whitman, the deceased, Charlie Donaldson and Trauman Davis were scuffling around the engine over a gun. The gun was discharged either accidentally or on purpose. It later developed that George Whitman was terribly burned about the body.

In order to prove whether these burns were made before the negro was killed or afterwards, Dr. H. H. Harris will take the stand this morning to give expert testimony as to burns made before and after death.

FOOTBALL GAME HERE ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Anderson Team Will Meet Erskine
High School Team—Called 10 O'clock A. M.

The people of Anderson will have a chance of spending Thanksgiving morning watching a football game, if they wish to. Capt. Jones of the local high school team yesterday afternoon announced that on next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock his team would play Erskine high school team.

It was announced some time ago that Anderson would play Greenwood high school team on that date, but since that time they have cancelled the game.

The Erskine team is said to be a fast one and will doubtless give the local team a hard contest. The Anderson team has shown up well this year, and its fast and splendid work can only be appreciated by those who have witnessed some of the games.

It is understood that Thanksgiving Day will be a general holiday in Anderson, and this being the case, there ought to be an unusually large attendance at the football game.

CAUSES ASTONISHMENT

Enemies of English Words Surprised at Number Used.
Berlin, Nov. 19.—Even the enemies of those words in the German language which are "foreign"—chiefly English and French—have been surprised to find by a careful count that there are in use—and in the dictionaries—100,000 terms that can be said to be un-German. The discovery was made by Ernest Brass of Duesseldorf, a well known writer, and was announced to the Duesseldorf branch of the General German Language Association at its last meeting. The members gasped.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back its Color and Lustre with Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added will turn gray, faded and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, removes every bit of dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores known as "Wyatt's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyatt's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.
